- Nelson, Auckland, Christchurch, Australia.

Brightwater Engineering is entering a considerable period of growth, striving to achieve some ambitious yet exciting goals in the future. To assist in delivering on our Engineering Strategy, we are looking to employ suitably skilled industry experts who have a high level of industry specific engineering knowledge and capability. These roles will be critical in providing technical advice and support to current and prospective clients along with supporting our Projects team with technical and process expertise when required.

We are looking for industry “stars” who will be successful in these roles by demonstrating the following skills:

- Excellent communications skill, including the ability to build strong relationships with all stakeholders
- High levels of technical knowledge and skill gained through experience in the specific industries we work within
- Commercially astute in order to provide cost effective quality engineering solutions to the client, whilst meeting internal budget requirements
- Provision of innovative and proactive engineering solutions through the sales process, acting as a liaison between our company and the client.

These Industry Specialists will be top class industry experts who can deliver pragmatic end to end engineering concepts to our clients, providing technical advice and support where required both externally and internally.

If you have the unique ability to provide expert knowledge in one or more of the industries we specialise in we will welcome the opportunity to hear from you.

Please send your application to careers@brightwater.co.nz or alternatively call Dylan Adams, Group HR Manager on 03 543 5300 for more information about the opportunities.

All applications will be treated with the strictest confidence.
